

I urge you not to lift the rules of cross-ownership. If anything you should make the stronger and enforce those laws more tightly. We can't let one company control the flow of information to a community or the state of the nation will be in distress.